SERVICEMAN'S CORNER:

The following letter was received by MRS. LEWIS DIEL, of 405 Mendocino St. Brisbane--and was turned over to the BYLINE for publication as per instructions:

"Hello, there--Honey! Here is all the luck and best wishes for you--and for all the fine folks in Brisbane. I want to give my best wishes to my mother, and to my family--and to my girl's family, and to ALL you swell people. I will be seeing you folks!

from one of the SOLDIERS OF
SIERRA POINT ROAD--
Gerald Floyd Crowley."

It was good to see William "Willie" Hatch in town of Tuesday of this week. PFC Hatch is stationed at Hamilton Field Airforce Base, while brother Richard "Porky" Hatch is still sweating it out at Keeler Airforce Base at Bilioxi, Mississippi.

Pvt. Eddie Rolland and Pvt. Glendon Stacer were also home on leave recently from Fort Ord, where they are stationed at present.

Cpl. Merle Saylor has returned to Montauk Point, Long Island--after a 30 day stay here in Brisbane. Mrs. Hazel Hooper, of 1100 Humboldt Road, Merle's mother, has received word that he reached his destination safely.

We have been handed the mailing address of another local serviceman so that he may receive complimentary copies of the BYLINE. He is Pvt. Claget (Buck) Shulda, who is stationed at Camp Pickett, Virginia. That makes a total of thirty-four local servicemen to whom we are mailing copies of the hometown paper each week. There are still a few of our local young men who have not sent us their addresses for their free copies. Won't the families of these young men please get in touch with us? One of these issues, when we have plenty of xp space left over, we'll publish the entire list, and then you can see if YOUR particular serviceman has been left out.

Well, feller citizens and servicemen--that's all the news for our serviceman's corner this time. Hope to have more for future issues. But can't print stuff if said stuff isn't sent or handed to us, now can we?-YE EDITOR.

HOW FORGETFUL CAN YOU GET???

Forgetting to celebrate their own 21st wedding anniversary on February 10th, the WILLIAM HARRIS'S were busy little bees at the Legion Dance that night--running around, asking everyone ELSE for birthday and wedding anniversary dates, so that the orchestra could play "Happy Birthday" or "The Anniversary Waltz." And what's more, Bill and Lorene didn't remember about their own anniversary until the following Monday! How's THAT for the "height of something-or-other"?

BRISBANE SCHOOL AIDE'S CAR EXPLODES:

For a few moments, Mrs. Monti Rice, assistant principal of the Brisbane Elementary School, and teacher of the eighth grade, thought she had been bombed Chicago style. Mrs. Rice got into her car earlier this week, and an explosion ripped the car as she stepped on the starter. Pieces of chrome from the hood cover went flying into the air. Smoke emerged from the engine. Deputy Sheriffs Hosford and Siemssen, however, found no bomb planted in the engine. Their diagnosis; Gas vapor had collected in the carburetor and was touched off by a spark as Mrs. Rice stepped on the starter.

MARINES DENY ARMY IS "ONLY CHOICE":

The United States Marine Corps leaped to it's own defense with characteristic speed recently, to refute a recent Burlingame Advance story that young men in San Mateo County wishing to volunteer for military service have but one choice ----the Army.

A Marine spokesman said, "While it's true the Army is the only outfit in the county taking volunteers, the Marines will take San Mateo County volunteers in their San Francisco and San Jose offices. We have unlimited quotas, and there's no waiting list."

Office addresses are Room 32, Federal Office Building, San Francisco--and Room 227, Postoffice Building, San Jose.

CIVIL DEFENSE DIRECTOR NAMED:

San Mateo's unincorporated territory, as most of the cities in the county, now has a civil defense and disaster council, and a civil defense director.

The county board of supervisors recently adopted an emergency ordinance setting up the council and naming County Manager E. Robert Stallings the civil defense director. At the same time, the board created the post of assistant director, but named no salary.

The assistant director--who in effect will be the acting civil defense head for the unincorporated territory--also will be coordinator of civil defense for the county and it's 15 cities. A committee for joint county-city civil defense planning board, headed by U.S. Simmonds of Burlingame, now is screening applicants for the coordinator post. The committee will present it's decision to the planning board, which will submit three names from which the board of supervisors is to pick.

The man selected by the supervisors from the planning board list will be installed as Stalling's assistant.

According to a resolution adopted by the joint planning board, the supervisors were to name the coordinator, and also make him the civil defense director for the unincorporated territory. The civil defense and disaster council, as created in the ordinance, will be composed of:

Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame, as chairman, under delegation of authority of Board Chairman Alvin S. Hatch. McDonald also is chairman of the joint county-cities planning board. Stallings, as civil defense director, will be vice-chairman. The assistant director and county coordinator, who will develop CD and disaster plans and programs for the county.

Deputy directors and chiefs of operating civil defense and disaster department and services together with anyone else the supervisors appoint.

The ordinance has teeth in it. It makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum of $500 fine and six months imprisonment for the obstruction of a civil defense member in performance of his official duties, or the wearing of unauthorized civil defense insignia.---from the ADVANCE.
